Effective December 30, 2015

EXPLANATION – Matter in italics is new; matter in brackets [~~omitted material~~] is material to be omitted.

AUTHORITY: §1, NRS 630.130 and 630.275.

A REGULATION relating to physician assistants; revising provisions governing the qualifications of applicants for licensure as a physician assistant; and providing other matters properly relating thereto.

Legislative Counsel's Digest:

Existing law requires the Board of Medical Examiners to adopt regulations regarding the licensure of physician assistants, including, without limitation, the educational and other qualifications of applicants for licensure as a physician assistant. (NRS 630.275)

Existing regulations set forth the qualifications of applicants for licensure as a physician assistant. Those qualifications include attending and completing a course of training in residence as a physician assistant which is approved by one of three listed entities. The list of entities includes the Accreditation Review Committee on Education for the Physician Assistant or its successor organization. (NAC 630.280) This regulation revises the name of the Accreditation Review Committee on Education for the Physician Assistant to accurately reflect the current name of the entity.

Section 1. NAC 630.280 is hereby amended to read as follows:

630.280 An applicant for licensure as a physician assistant must have the following qualifications:

1. If the applicant has not practiced as a physician assistant for 12 months or more before applying for licensure in this State, he or she must, at the order of the Board, have taken and passed the same examination to test medical competency as that given to applicants for initial licensure.

2. Be a citizen of the United States or be lawfully entitled to remain and work in the United States.

3. Be able to communicate adequately orally and in writing in the English language.

4. Be of good moral character and reputation.
