Professional Statement:

My experience Directing Perfusion teams combined with my law enforcement career offers forty years of leadership skills in complex and high stress environments.

Education:

May 2012- Master Health Sciences, Quinnipiac University, Hamden CT
December 2002- Certified Cardiovascular Perfusionist, Quinnipiac University, Hamden CT

Management in the work force: motivational and transformational leadership: employee recruitment & retention; corporate responsibilities; strategic planning; organizational change: finance and budgets.

Clinical Experience:

My clinical experiences span over 17 years. I am proficient in all facets of perfusion. My competence is within all adult perfusion surgeries; CABG, valves, complex aortic procedures to name a few. As former Director of congenital services I concentrate in the pediatric division where I obtain most my caseload. I am versed in complex perfusion congenital surgery: Arterial switches, truncus arteriosus, TOF, A-V canals and HLHS. I have started, managed and directed several ECMO programs. I have experience in ventricular assist devices and heart transplantation for both adult and pediatric populations. I train and lecture to all interdisciplinary teams while maintaining the perfusion department's vision.

Daniel Rodriguez, MHS, CCP, FPP

A highlight in my work history arises from my ten years of law enforcement. As a police officer I gained enormous experience as a leader and manager of situations. This profession exposed me to situational stressors that have sharpened my awareness of the surrounding environments. This quality affords me the opportunity to be highly observant and assess situations others may miss. With this ability, I offer influential reasoning that is conducive to those relationships with surgeons, nurses, and other staff members within the surgical theater.
